

Best for: Contact Centre managers looking to maximise collaboration through multiple audio devices, PC and telephone based calls

Savi® over-the-head

It unifies your conversations by connecting to your PC and telephone – enabling you to introduce experts into the call for improved customer service and first call resolution. The headset is comfortable for all-day use, and can pair with other bases for training or hot-desking.

- Real-time collaboration for customer service representatives and supervisors
- Protects against long-term noise exposure and sudden sounds
- Over-the-head wearing style for all-day comfort
- The Savi wireless headset is the one headset for all call centre manager needs
- Savi features an extended range allowing you to roam away from your desk and talk hands-free while staying fully connected
- Energy efficient for longer talk-times
- Our new software, PerSono® Suite, lets you mix PC and deskphone calls, mute a call, or put a call on hold with the click of a button
